

Gig Bags for Acoustic Image Speaker and Combo Products

Commercially available tom tom bags can be used as padded gig bags for our speaker and combo products. Three gig bag sizes will work for all combinations. We have tried bags from two suppliers and can recommend them, Protecator by Gator Cases and Ahead Armor. The Protecator cases cost less than the Ahead Armor cases but the latter have more padding. The Ahead Armor cases are more versatile in that they are roomier and more of the units fit in those cases. The cases from both manufacturers are well made and cost effective. The table below shows which case goes with which product. Photos are below that show how the products fit in the bags. Feel free to call if you have questions.

Our recommendations are as follows:

- The Ahead Armor 12x9 case (AR5129) for the Coda and DoubleShot cabinets and the Coda and DoubleShot 1, 1R and 2 combos.
- The Ahead Armor 12x10 case (AR412) for the Coda and DoubleShot 2R combos or for all combos if you prefer to keep the head attached to the bracket in the docked position.
- The Ahead Armor 12x7 case (AR3008) for the UpShot cabinet and combos.
- Choose the Protechtor cases if you interested in the lowest cost options.
